PENTECOST SUNDAY

The story of the first Christian Pentecost began in fear and ended in joy. Or, more accurately, Pentecost has not ended yet. For today, we live in the time of this powerful Spirit. On that first day, the disciples crowded together in an out-of-the-way room, unsure and fearful. It took an unmistakable manifestation of God’s power to shake off fear and replace it with bold proclamation. And so it came to pass. We are told in Acts that the descending Spirit came as a strong wind and rested over the disciples. The second reading tells us that the Spirit generates harmony and unity in the Church. No act of faith can be made, no good work accomplished, no ministry undertaken without the sustaining power of the Holy Spirit. All who are Church are one in the Spirit of unity. The people called to undertake this task and mission are called the Church - that’s us: the faithful of St. Colman.

Thoughts to Reflect on and Share “Even though ‘we may not know how to pray as we ought’, we are blessed by the presence and intercession of the Holy Spirit. So, we should never give up on our prayers because they are heard by the Father; rather we should be patient and always be listening for His response.” Deacon Herb Follow Deacon Herb on Facebook.

ON MISSION FOR THE CHURCH ALIVE Remember the rollicking Beatles’ song “All Together Now”? While the light-hearted chorus was meant to be an invitation to sing along, Paul McCartney said it also had an undercurrent of “we are all together now.” That is where we are moving to in our diocesan-wide program, “On Mission for The Church Alive!” We are in, ready to move together as the Church Evangelizing! Read, hear and proclaim this weekend’s Good News. This is what we need to celebrate - all together now - on this Pentecost Sunday. To read more, check out “On Mission for The Church Alive! On page 5 of this week’s Pittsburgh Catholic and visit www.OnMissionChurchAlive.org. Follow “On Mission for The Church Alive! on Twitter @PghChurchAlive. Have something to share about how your parish is “On Mission”? Use hashtags #ChurchAlive & #OnMissionPgh.

Don't let your child become a statistic!

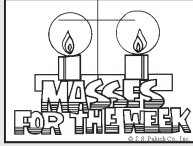

80% of kids stop practicing the faith at some point during college. There is a way to keep our kids (grandkids) connected to the faith. Go to www.diopitt.org/newmanconnection and fill out the quick online form. We only need their first and last name and the school they will be attending. A Catholic campus minister at their college will be able to reach out to them and invite them to participate in campus ministry. It takes less than 2 minutes to do it and it might be the most important thing you do for your loved one as they graduate high school!
